

SOCIAL EVENTS AND PERSONAL MENTION

CHILDREN TO TAKE PART IN BRIGHT AMATEUR PLAY

"Hacketty-Packetty House" at Academy to Be Brilliant Social Event.

MRS. TURNER IS ENTERTAINED

Confederate Societies to Attend Arlington Monument Unveiling Near Washington on June 4.

The leading social event of this week will be the performance of the "Hacketty-Packetty House" at the Academy of Music, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, as well for the night performance on Thursday. Miss Grayce Scott, of the Bijou Stock Company, will entertain a number of guests in the box, the audience will witness the performance of "Hacketty-Packetty House," and many prominent people will be noted there this afternoon for the matinee.

A number of well-known little girls and boys have been cast for the parts in this play, which was given with success in New York, at the children's theatre, under the direction of Clayton Hamilton, and society is all agog over the idea of seeing small daughters and sons, costumed and bewigged, play a real part in a perfectly fascinating play.

Going Abroad. Mrs. Mattie Bolling, Mrs. Edward T. Minor, Miss Carrie Minor and Adair Archer, of this city, are sailing on June 19 from New York for Europe. Mrs. Archer expects to go at once to Italy, and will spend the summer months visiting places of interest on the Continent.

Mrs. Turner Entertained. A pretty compliment to Mrs. Channing Turner, of Richmond, the guest of Mrs. Dudley Cowles, in Atlanta, Ga., was the bridge luncheon given Thursday by Mrs. Richard C. Congdon, at her home, on Myrtle Street.

The rooms were artistically decorated in pink sweet peas and spring roses.

Mrs. Congdon was gowned in white embroidered voile trimmed in old rose with corsage of gardenias, and Mrs. Turner wore black satin with notice of shadow lace.

The guest prize was a hand-painted bonnet dish, and the prize for top score was a black fan spangled in gold.

The guests present were: Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Cowles, Mrs. H. E. Scott, Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Norwood Mitchell, Mrs. Charles Barth, Mrs. Edward Peters, Mrs. Levelette Walker, Mrs. George Cranford, Mrs. J. B. Hockaday, Mrs. Frank Farley, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. R. A. Smythe, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Miss Ada Alexander, Miss Sarah Bancroft, of New York; Mrs. Alan Whitaker, Mrs. H. E. Cowles and Mrs. William Cosgrove.

A banquet was given for Mrs. Turner by Mrs. J. B. Hockaday at the Piedmont Dining Club on Wednesday, when a large number of guests were entertained. Mrs. Turner wore a black gown made with an overskirt of lace and point d'esprit. Mrs. Frank Farley entertained at a big luncheon for Mrs. Turner last week, and the decorations everywhere were in Killarney roses.

Outing to Washington. Smart society is looking forward with a great deal of interest and enthusiasm to the big excursion to Washington on Thursday, June 4, which will be given by the Daughters of the Confederacy, under the auspices of Richmond Chapter, The President, Mr. Norman V. Randolph, and the other officers of the chapter, will act as chaperons for the affair, and numerous parties have already been made up to accompany the daughters on this outing. The occasion will be to witness the unveiling of the Arlington Monument, of which Sir Moses Ezekiel is the sculptor, and hundreds of people from Richmond will attend the ceremony. Invitations are extended by the daughters to Lee, Chesterfield and Ashland Chapters, veterans, all other Confederate organizations and the public generally, to accompany the daughters to Washington for this event. The train will leave Elba Station at 8 o'clock on the morning of June 4, and returning, will leave Washington at 8 P. M.

Mrs. P. J. White is chairman of this excursion, and arrangements for the event have been most admirably perfected.

Dance at the Hermitage. The Hermitage Club will give a dance to its members on Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

Dances at the Hermitage Club have always been very popular, and this will, no doubt, be a very enjoyable occasion to those who participate.

For Mrs. Hatcher. Mrs. Webster Whitman was hostess at a delightful informal musical on Thursday morning at her apartment on the Gramon, complimentary to Mrs. Robert Hatcher, of Roanoke. The decorations were in early summer garden flowers, and punch was served by Mrs. August O. Swink. Mrs. Hatcher has a rich contralto voice, and is a member of the Lyric Quartet, of Roanoke. Her rendition of "Knowest Thou the Hand," was splendid. Mrs. Edward Van Riper and Mrs. Strell sang several numbers on the program, and refreshments were served later, a color scheme of pink and green being carried out very effectively.

Leaving for North Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Hannigan, who were quietly married in the Sacred Heart Cathedral on December 27 of the past year, left last week for Charlotte, N. C., where they expect to make their home.

Mrs. Hannigan was before her marriage Miss Madeline Elizabeth Heeke, daughter of Mrs. Little Heeke and the late Henry J. Heeke, of this city.

Y. W. C. A. Entertainment. The lovely entertainment, "Dances of the Nations," which was given successfully at the Young Women's Christian Association during opening week, is to be repeated this evening. The program includes about ten dances in national costumes, ranging from the old Morris dance by twelve of the youngest boys and girls in the gymnasium, to the difficult and expressive Russian dance by the girls of the advanced class. In addition there are graceful solo dances by Miss Eva Powers Washburn, physical instructor, and Miss Beatrice Berthold, assistant, and the program will be concluded with the "Winding of the Maypole," by sixteen girls in quaint old English costumes. The entertainment is for the purpose of securing funds to purchase some new gymnasium apparatus, and the public is invited to attend.

Big Anniversary Entertainment. The twentieth anniversary of the organization of the German-American Ladies' Aid Association will be celebrated this afternoon and evening by an interesting and delightful entertainment. The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. B. Hassel, 1909 Pleasant Street, from 4 to 11 o'clock. There will be dancing, and the society will serve supper. The program will last for an hour, to be opened with a prayer, and the annual reports, music and songs will follow. This association was founded at the old Virginia Hospital on April 25, 1894, by a number of women who desired to help in caring for the sick, poor and indigent. Its purpose was to help them in the home and the hospital, and the objects of the association have been well carried out. From forty to fifty patients have been treated each year, being provided with clothing, fuel, provisions and medicine.

The association is un denominational, and carries on its work among all classes of the poor. The officers include Mrs. A. von N. Rosenknecht, president; Mrs. B. Hassel, vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Siewers, secretary; Mrs. William Grinnell, treasurer; and Mrs. E. Enders, financial secretary.

The committee for food and needy, which has served continuously since the organization of the association, is composed of Mrs. B. Hassel, Mrs. George Dietrich, Sr., Mrs. J. Krouse and Mrs. Charles A. Metzger.

In the future patients of the association will be taken to Grace Hospital, owing to the change in the character of the Virginia Hospital.

At the Women's Club. An interested audience gathered at the Women's Club yesterday afternoon to hear Mrs. Jeffrey Montague's address on "The King's Castles in Bavaria and the Highways to Them."

It was a charming and fascinating little journey that she took her hearers, a tour among the pleasant valleys and hilllands of this Old World country. This is the second of a series of papers that Mrs. Montague has read before the club on the subject, and the address yesterday touched more upon the personal experiences of the speaker, dwelling in charming detail upon the trip taken by her with a party of friends on bicycles through Bavaria. The beautiful scenery of the country was reflected in every line, and the whole was wrought with the sparkling brightness of the artist, who made the picture with pleasant phrasing and humorous words.

Mrs. Montague has spent several years abroad as an art student, and the data gathered during her sojourn there has formed rich material for some of the most interesting papers that have been heard at the club.

The tea tables were decorated in vases of pink peonies, and Mrs. Montague's afternoon included Mrs. Staywayne Wilson, Mrs. Randolph Watkins, Mrs. William G. Stanard and Mrs. Newton.

Mrs. Helton Hostess. Mrs. Preston Helton gave a beautiful luncheon at the Country Club on Friday in honor of Mrs. Frederick R. Smith, of Rochester, N. Y., wife of Imperial Potentate of the Mystic Shrine Williams Temple, New York, the oldest temple in America.

Attractive Bridge Party. Mrs. Richard Jones was hostess Friday at a bridge luncheon given in compliment to Miss Emma Williams, of Portsmouth, whose marriage to William Condit, of Richmond, will be an interesting social event of early June.
